Meeting Set To Discuss Rec Fund Vote

The Jefferson elementary school board's refusal, May 7, to grant $12,500 to cover the immediate cost of the summer recreation program could conceivably "imperil" the Daly City elementary recreation program, Mayor Joseph Verducci said at the Monday, May 14, city council meeting.

A meeting of the council and the school district board has been set for Monday, May 21, at the city hall at 8 p.m. in an attempt to iron out any difficulties.

The school board had adopted the position that they would not make funds available to the recreation program until they had the opportunity to sit down with the council and "iron out some of the problems the two boards have been faced with in the past four years."

The basic issue, according to recreation director Charles Vincent, is a written agreement between the school district and the city as pertains to the recreation program.

Resident Cowed By Garbage Truck

"I have not slept for weeks and I'm beginning to feel it," Bob Brockman, 118 Crestwood drive, Apt. 15, complained Monday night, May 14, to the city council.

Brockman said the Daly City Scavenger's compressor "infernal machine" which stops outside his apartment early in the morning is literally driving him crazy.

"I'll allow for dropped lids and slammed cans, but please, Mr. Mayor, get that grinder out from under my window," he pleaded.

Brockman said he was considering swearing out a warrant against the garbage man, but decided against it. The other day, he hollered at the man to quit making so much noise and the man, he said, shouted "Go to city hall."

The Garbage Routine Brockman outlined the following routine from which he claims he is rousted from bed by the scavenger:

(1) "First they start the truck and shake my windows."
(2) "A man starts running through the apartment court."

(3) Noise of dumping cans.
(4) The grinder starts up. "By that time I'm fully awake."

(5) "Then they park under my window for a half hour with the grinder going."

Brockman claimed he is awakened as early as 5 a.m. This claim was refuted by the scavenger company president, Al Serini, who said his men don't get there before 8:30 a.m.

City manager Ed Frank will meet with Brockman and Serini and see if better time schedules can be worked out.

Work Ceases On Jefferson Project

The Jefferson high school board learned Monday that all work will cease this week on the renovation of Jefferson high school, due to the Contractor's Association strike.

The strike will affect about 40 classrooms, currently under construction, and the athletic field. Science labs are among those affected by the strike.

"The only thing that we have completed are the shops and cafeteria," said superintendent Ed Morgan.

"If necessary, we will use the new gymnasium for classroom area," he replied in response to the critical problem.

To date the strike has not hampered work on the new Westmore high school addition.

A solution on the Oceana transportation problem will be acted upon next meeting. The thoroughfare to the new high school is Highway 1, which has no sidewalks or walkways, thus endangering students walking to and from school.

In other action, the board tabled a discussion on the classified salaries for custodians until next meeting.

Jay Hartmann, representative of the California-Peninsula Public Employees local 57, outlined a tentative plan before the board calling for a 4 to 5 per cent increase for the custodians in the district.

He also proposed time and a half for overtime work and asked that seniority be considered in promotional examinations. Hartmann pointed out that the custodians in the district had received no wage increase last year and that the cost of living had risen 3.6 per cent.

The board also moved to authorize the dedication of Terra Nova boulevard to the City of Pacific by the school district. They passed three resolutions to formalize the dedication and transfer of deeds, which will officially take place June 11.

Seven new teachers were also hired by the district, bringing the total to 47 new people hired to the staff to date.

Employee Probation Extended

The city council Monday night extended the probationary period of classified city employees from six months to a year and also spelled out the list of who is classified and who isn't.

In other action, the council: (1) Asked the city manager to meet with Harry Ojakian, 6524 Mission street, to see if Ojakian is interested in forming an assessment district to ease the parking situation on the 6500 block of Mission street.

(2) Accepted completion notices for the Westlake sump, 1962 resurfacing of streets and new water line, and improvement of Northridge Park parking lot.

(3) Accepted a report from City engineer William Chapman that negotiations with the state and county highway departments are at a standstill regarding proposed city changes in the Eastmore freeway interchange. The city wants to (Continued on Page 2)

Students To Get Chinese Course

Students at Jefferson and Westmore high schools will be offered a course in Chinese next semester as the result of a $125,000 Carnegie grant to San Francisco State College.

The Jefferson high school district school board acted Monday night to allow S. F. State to set up a three-year class at Westmore high school, financed by the college.

Dr. Kai-Yu Hsu, Chinese instructor at San Francisco State, contacted Superintendent Edward Morgan earlier this year, stating that the Jefferson district had been chosen as one of the areas for a possible class in Chinese.

A screening of students taken at the two high schools indicated that 18 students—13 from Westmore and five from Jefferson—showed high academic interest in the course.

City Water Rate Hike Is Planned

The first water rate increase in Daly City since 1913, an increase of 75 cents per month, was viewed favorably Monday night, May 14, by the Daly City Council.

Councilmen rejected the "lowest" of rate increases of $1.44 per month suggested by a Washington Associates engineering survey of the Daly City water system. The survey states Daly City's water system is in need of $1.5 million worth of repairs.

City manager Edward Frank said the water rate increase would avoid the necessity of any bond issue in Daly City. City engineer William Chapman presented two rates—one increase of $1.44 per month—one increase of $.75 per month. The higher rate, he said, would insure against price rises and would insure faster meter repairs. The rate increase will be presented for a vote at the May 28 council meeting.

Chapman stated that Daly City presently has the lowest rates in this area. Daly City bills are $6.60, while San Bruno pays $12.70 for 2,200 cubic feet of water and Broadmoor-Colma residents pay $11 for the same consumption.

The higher rate would bring in some $240,000 extra revenue per year. The lower rate, $126,000. (Continued on Page 2)

A former planning technician at Medford, Malone will aid in the passage of the new zoning ordinance, coordinate city activities with other governmental agencies, coordinate activities of various inter-city departments and commissions, and will prepare a long range capital outlay budget for streets, parks, water and public buildings. He will also make land use studies for any proposed annexations.

Special Workshops At CCPT Meeting

by Sally Stein

"Would you like to know more about the job you are going to do for your PTA?" That is the big question posed before the "Special Workshops" to be held at the Burlingame Methodist Church, Thursday, May 17, 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Luncheon is by reservation.

Mrs. Foriest Cunningham, 17th District president, announced the "Workshops" commonly referred to as "School of Education" will be held for the following: room representatives, membership, program, hospitality, ways-means and budget, publicity, presidents and parliamentarians, and extends a cordial invitation to all representatives from the 156 units in 17th District to attend and participate.

"Special Workshops" are designed to assist presidents, officers and chairmen in performing the duties of their position to the best of their abilities in the interests of all concerned and to pave the way for promoting PTA welfare in their communities.

Mrs. Cunningham, returning from the state convention and meeting of state board of directors, held in San Francisco last week, will report on California Congress of Parents and Teachers activities, and state elections of officers, inclusive 1962-1964.

City attorney Paul Hupf will present an ordinance for the council's vote at the next meeting. Arguments against the proposed increase were presented by George Kirchhubel, who stated Daly City should have a utilities commission. He asked for a breakdown of water expenditures.

Finance director Joe Arch said each year the water department presents a report to its bondholders and this report is available to the public.

ited foreign language taught for three years at Westmoor high school.

"Much of today's world problems seem to stem from semantic difficulties between cultures, and some important value could come out of this course," commented board member Dr. Jerry Miles.

In the last article, it was mentioned that teenagers will discuss their problems with adults they feel they can trust. To illustrate this point, this week a number of statements are presented that have been gathered from teenagers ranging from 13 to 19 years of age. Next week, the reader will be given a glimpse of actual delinquency occurring in Daly City, but escaping the notice of authorities. These incidents were reported by parents reluctant to report the actions to authorities, or by the youth themselves. Each has been checked to determine authenticity, and a report has been forwarded to the proper authorities to assist in prevention of such delinquency in the future.

Teenagers Speak Out!
I don't think that the problem of juvenile delinquency is simply a matter of recreational facilities. Part of the problem, as I see it, is the fault of the parents in that they do not give the kids the right kind of discipline, and I don't mean beating the stuffing out of them. I believe that having a responsibility around the home is very important. It makes you feel wanted and needed. I don't mean something like doing the dishes or carrying out garbage, but something that is important. This makes a person feel wanted and needed. You can, if you try, make fun out of work, and it does keep you out of trouble. Parents too often say we are lazy without giving us a job that really has some responsibility attached to it. —(Teen-age boy).

I think some sort of survey should be made to determine the interests of the teenager before just going ahead and building something to keep kids out of trouble. Just because grown-ups think we should like something doesn't mean that we will. —(Teen-age boy).

I believe there is a general lack of trust of the teenagers by the stores due to the actions of a few. If people would show more trust in us we would be more apt to return such trust. —(Teen-age girl).

Too many rules in school and at home can be broken and no one seems to care. Maybe the teenage delinquents are just trying to find someone who does care. —(Teen-age boy).

We are constantly told not to touch, not to linger, not to stop, to move on and get out. If they (stores) wouldn't always be so bossy and mean to the teenagers, and treat us more like human beings, perhaps we wouldn't do so much to aggravate them. —(Teen-age girl).

Most of this juvenile delinquency is by kids showing off and wanting attention. They haven't been taught at home or at school any other way of achieving it, or if they have, it wasn't a very good lesson. They try to be tough to attract attention and get approval of the gang. I had a girl-friend like this. She started off going to and giving wild parties until she was in solid with a gang. Now she spends all her time at wild parties, drink-outs at the beach, and having a wild time. She doesn't have many friends that aren't as wild as she. Kids like this one think it is the only way a teenager can win. —(Teen-age girl).

Lots of kids want to make money. It gives a good feeling to a person to work, but it is a better feeling when this work earns you some money. I am for a teenage employment service which would help us get jobs. I have a lot of ideas on how this could operate. —(Teen-age girl).

Some parents are over protective towards their kid. When they are this way the kid rebels after he gets into his teens, against his parents, and then against all adults. Also, some parents encourage delinquency because they won't believe their child is capable of doing anything wrong. I know of a few cases where kids have copied something and taken it home. The parents have told the kids not to do it any more, allowed the kid to keep what he copied, and forget about it. —(Teen-age boy).

Kids will do things just so they can get in good with the gang. I think the biggest problem of a teenager is just being accepted by a crowd. If you are not accepted then you go out and do things which bring you attention even though it might be bad attention. —(Teen-age boy).

I think one of our main problems is those with adults selling liquor — believe it or not, there are some who will sell it to kids even though they sell it at much higher prices than adults pay for it. Kids will cop to get money to pay for the high priced liquor, just so they can share it with the gang and get in good with them. Of course, I'm not saying this is the only way liquor is obtained by juveniles. A lot of it comes from homes, left-overs from parties, or is taken from the home by teenagers when the adults are out. It is also easy, in some liquor stores, to cop when the manager goes in back for something or another. —(Teen-age boy).

These statements hit very close to a few of the basic causes of delinquency and are much more direct than most presented by adults, without the obvious attempt at whitewashing. Some may not be pleasing to school, community or parent, but it should be agreed that they are honest appraisals and each has merit, worthy of serious consideration.

(4) Accepted an idea for a new ordinance making solicitors give 10 days notice in newspapers and have a picture taken with the police department before they are allowed to solicit in Daly City. The move was urged by councilman Michael DeBernardi because of the recent outbreak of burglaries.

Annual Jeff Spring Concert On Friday

This Friday night, May 18, Jefferson high school will present their Annual Spring Concert. The performance is to be held at the Veterans War Memorial Building, Mission St. and E. Vista Ave. in Daly City at 8 p.m.

The program includes selections by the orchestra, dance band, boys' chorus, girls' chorus, the A Cappella choir and the concert band.

This will be the first public performance of the A Cappella choir.

The orchestra will be playing "Selections from the Student Prince" by Romberg, "Atlantis Suite" by Safranek, "The Magic Flute" by Mozart and "The Great Gate of Kiev" by Moussorsky. Featured soloist with the orchestra will be Miss Karen Franklin, a sophomore, playing "Violin Concerto No. IX" by de Beriot.

The dance band will be doing a take-off on a famous band entitled "Bubbly Music."

The band's major numbers include "Italian in Algiers" by Rossini and "Selections from Gigi" which will be led by a student conductor, Miss Penny Richner, who is a graduating senior.

Admission for the concert is fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for students with student body cards.

Vocal music is under the direction of Gilbert Crane, instrumental music under Richard Larsen.

Broadmoor-Westlake; Daly City-Brisbane Road Budgets Ok'd

Preliminary county budgets for roads to link Broadmoor with Westlake and Daly City with Brisbane have been approved by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, county manager E. R. Stallings reported.

The board hopes to work out with the Jefferson Elementary School District a suitable routing for the $200,000 White street project which would furnish an artery of traffic between Broadmoor and Westlake. Construction work will go across the unincorporated Broadmoor area to 87th street.

The Industrial area of Bayshore will be accessible to Daly City with the proposed $300,000 Market street extension joining Market street in Daly City with the so-called TV Tower Road across the Crocker hills.

OLPH Mammouth Ham Whist May 16

Wednesday evening, May 16, at 8:30 p.m. is the time when Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mother's Club, 80 Wellington avenue, Daly City, will hold the Mammouth Ham Whist so popular with the "game" crowd at this time of the year.

Much time, effort and energy has been put forth to make this event surpass the former years.

There will be prizes for the home, the "gardener," the "rumpus" room — groceries galore; the "athlete," the "home-body," and the "traveler" will find something to his liking.

Awards in value to $20.00 will be offered, so come try your luck—maybe you will be the lucky ones to be walking home with one or more of the beautiful and useful items.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

"Next Generation"

A hard-hitting program is under way in California today to prevent youths in public welfare families from following the same path of dependency as their parents.

The latest move in this push to achieve self-support for the "next generation" will be taken up Friday, May 25, at the State Social Welfare Board meeting in Eureka.

The board will consider a measure directing county welfare departments to place heavy emphasis on the employment and educational plans of teenage youngsters in Aid to Needy Children (ANC) families, especially 16- to 18-year-olds.

J. M. Wedemeyer, state social welfare director, said we are encouraging counties to set up plans for future education or vocational training of these youths.

"The federal government is urging a stepped-up effort in this direction," Wedemeyer said. "California for several years has had such a policy on its books, but it never was implemented to any degree."

As an incentive to plan ahead, a sizeable portion of the teenager's earnings are allowed to be retained for educational purposes rather than having to go for the current family needs.

Highway Program To Be Studied

Vital State highway needs in San Mateo County will be studied at a meeting of county officials, Chamber of Commerce and civic leaders with members of the California State Chamber of Commerce Central Coast Highway Committee, it was announced this week by A. H. Clark, chairman. The meeting will be held Thursday, May 17, at the Hall of Records, Redwood City.

Designed to obtain grass-roots viewpoints on State highway, freeway and road improvements, the meeting is one of 55 held throughout the State under State Chamber sponsorship.

Recommendations on construction projects will be presented in late August, 1962, at a meeting of the California Highway Commission for consideration in the 1963-64 Highway Budget. The report on recommendations from all 58 counties will be published by the Chamber.

"The annual meetings bring current State highway issues and information to the direct attention of civic bodies and local governmental agencies and provide county leaders an opportunity to agree on State highway priority listings," Clark commented.

Special Hospital Costs

Directors of district hospitals may furnish hospital services for fees below the actual cost of such care to recipients of public assistance under the State medical care program, ruled Attorney General Stanley Mosk today.

Health and Safety Code, Section 32125, does not prohibit the furnishing of services to recipients of public assistance, although it prohibits contracting for care of "indigent county patients" at less than cost.

Recipients of aid under specified programs are not necessarily "indigent county patients."

"On the contrary, the Legislature has expressly indicated that recipients of aid under these programs are not to be considered paupers or indigents. Welfare and Institutions Code Section 427 provides that 'No person receiving aid under a public assistance program shall be considered a pauper or indigent by reason thereof, and no warrant drawn in payment of the aid given shall contain any reference to indigency or pauperism.'"

Benefits are available under four specified programs: Aid to needy children, aid to the aged, aid to the blind, and aid to the needy disabled. The State and Federal governments are closely involved in these programs as separate from the counties' general duty to care for indigent residents.

"A government is not an earner—but merely a spender—a distributor of our taxes. Anything that President Kennedy or any president for that matter, says he will give to the people, he must first take from them. In such a process we inevitably grow poorer, for the vital point that many miss is that the money comes from all of us."

—East Dubuque, Ill., Register.

"Newspapers always have and always will be willing to pay their fair share of the postal department's revenue, but they cannot carry the load for others—such as free mailings for government officials, etc."

—Liberal, Kans., Southwest Daily Times.

The View From Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

There is little argument today in this part of the nation concerning equal rights and equal opportunities for all men. We are all members of minorities of one sort or another. Our race, our religion, our job, our neighborhood—in each case our membership in one of these categories establishes us as a member of a minority.

Some of us belong to a highly visible minority, and thus stand a greater risk of being discriminated against. This is so in the case of motorists, Negroes, juveniles, and policemen.

Because these minorities are sometimes discriminated against, they fight for equality—and rightly so. But this fight becomes wrong when it goes to an extent further than mere equality.

No person has the right to demand more than his due BECAUSE of his minority membership.

We have seen this occur with motorists who speed through a school zone or violate a pedestrian's right-of-way, and who play the martyr when the richly deserved citation is issued—and then try to "fix" the citation through one source or another.

We have seen this when Negroes undo the good work of their fellows by demanding privileges that extend beyond the scope of any citizen.

We have seen this when juveniles commit adult-type offenses and then claim immunity because of their age status.

We have seen this in the case of the occasional policeman who is dishonest, and who, by virtue of his position, puts himself "above" the law instead of "of" the law.

So we have seen these things. None of the described incidents are a part of the code of a well-conducted man. But they do occur.

The other night Officer Dennis Sheehy was on patrol of his beat. It was in the post-midnight hours. The officer came across a parked auto. He queried the occupants, as was his right and duty, as to their business at that location and late hour.

Sheehy received verbal abuse as an answer. He repeated his inquiry several times, and each time was reviled and abused. The officer asked to see the man's identification, and this, too, was Sheehy's right and duty under the circumstances.

The questioned individual adamantly refused to show his identification. The officer advised the person that he was under arrest for disorderly conduct, a violation of 647e of the California Penal Code.

The section reads as follows: "647 (Disorderly conduct . . .). Every person who commits any of the following acts shall be guilty of disorderly conduct, a misdemeanor: . . . (e) Who loiters or wanders upon the streets or from place to place without apparent reason or business and who refuses to identify himself and to account for the presence when requested by any peace officer to do so . . ."

The man told the officer it was none of his business as to the reason for his presence in the neighborhood. He refused to identify himself. He assaulted the officer. This minority member reviled the officer's character and ancestry and in his profanity referred slightly to Sheehy's race.

The San Francisco man fled into the home of a relative. Sheehy radioed for assistance, and instituted pursuit. The officer was physically assaulted by two female relatives of the man. A door was broken in the struggle. The officer was injured. The arrest was effected.

The radio call went out. "Officer needs assistance." All units responded to the scene. Officer Gordon Sims handcuffed the prisoner, who was still resisting.

At the police station, the handcuffs were removed during the procedure of booking, fingerprinting, and photographing. The prisoner endeavored to kick the officer in the groin. Officer Sims defended himself, and the man was subdued.

And so a member of one minority exceeded himself by demanding, but not getting, rights which were not due him nor any other citizen. Sheehy and Sims, members of another highly visible minority, can only muse cynically to themselves concerning the vagaries of human conduct.

Something For Everyone

At this time of the year three or four groups create lists of notable books. Their endeavor is to call to public attention titles of stature and lasting contribution. With this high purpose in mind, we of the Daly City Public Library have compiled some lists of our own.

One of the most interesting of these was compiled by Miss Jackson and the staff of the John D. Daly Library at 6351 Mission. This list contains fifteen titles of significant books. Two of them are novels, while one is a collection of short stories.

Although only one was written especially for teenagers, the teen-agers of Daly City are reading several others. One of the titles is a collection of plays; another is a biography. Three are specialized histories. Still another is a political survey of Europe. One deserving special mention tells the story of the San Francisco Opera.

Here is the list:

NOTABLE BOOKS

Bloomfield—The San Francisco Opera, 1923-1961.
Bontemps—100 Years of Negro Freedom.
Briggs—Leonard Bernstein.
Buck—Fourteen Stories.
Caton—Coming Fury.
Eichelberger—UN: The First Fifteen Years.
Gassner—Best American Plays, 1918-1958.
Gunther—Inside Europe Today.
Hulme—Annie's Captain.
Lee—To Kill a Mocking Bird.
Munz—California Spring Wildflowers.
Priestley—Literature and Western Man.
Ridenour—Mental Health in the United States.
Roosevelt—Your Teens and Mine.
Wingenbach—The Peace Corps.

"It has often been pointed out in recent years that a good sampling of medical authority has become convinced that heavy cigarette smoking causes lung cancer. . . . We are not medical authorities, and no newspaper editor is. However, in the light of the solid evidence which has been developing in recent years, every heavy smoker, at the minimum, should consider what knowledge and science is increasingly proving about heavy smoking."

FIRE FACTS

This article is written by Daly City Firemen and published in this paper for the purpose of keeping the public informed about their fire department, its duties and associated activities.

On April 30th at 7:36 p.m. the Station Two personnel were alerted by the ringing of the "hot phone" from the police department. They were informed that someone reported smoke rising in the vicinity of Junipero Serra and Knowles avenue. They immediately manned their engine and rolled. Thus began the worst fire of 1962 for the city's fire department.

Engine Two and its crew were no more than a few blocks from their station when they realized that this was a major fire and assistance would be required. A "Mayday" was sent out over the engine's radio to Central Fire Station.

From Central Station the alarm was sounded for the "Call Paid Volunteers" and all off duty regular firemen.

In the meantime Engine Two had tied up to a hydrant at Knowles and Junipero Serra and moved South down Junipero Serra to the Goodwin Roofing Company. The engine pump was put into gear and hose was rushed up the driveway to the rear of the roofing company's yard where the large storage area was burning.

From Central Station Engine One and Ladder Truck One rolled. Engine One was taken to the rear, and because of railroad tracks it was necessary to hand carry 1000 feet of hose to the back of the burning storage area. From here they were able to fight the fire and also protect the homes on the leeward side of the conflagration.

The Two Volunteer Companies responded and assisted both in the front and rear area.

Off duty firemen stood by the remaining fire equipment in various fire stations ready to roll in the event of another fire.

As we have a Mutual Aid Agreement with the cities in Northern San Mateo County we asked that a Colma engine and personnel be dispatched to stand by in one of our fire houses, which they did immediately.

For the most part the fire was under control in a matter of 10 minutes. As engine and truck companies were no longer needed they were sent back to their stations where reserve equipment was added, and with in a few minutes they were "In Service" and ready in the event of another emergency anywhere in the city.

Even though the fire was under control by 7:46 p.m. it was necessary for five or so men to hunt and put out the last hot ember until 11 p.m.

Like most fires, this one died hard, and its always necessary to chop, tear out or drown the last little spark before we can call it a night.

Even though this fire in itself wasn't dangerous it had within it an element that could have caused a great deal of suffering. Roofing material is stubborn and causes huge amounts of smoke but the smoke itself was of little consequence. And the fire was surrounded by water streams so that all exposures were protected. But what we refer to were the Butane tanks on two of the five trucks that were destroyed by fire. Water was continually poured on these tanks to keep them cool but even at that one tank got a little to warm and had the good sense to pop its safety valve. The Butane followed its safety valve and sent a flame about 150 feet into the air.

All of us fighting the fire hoped that if the remaining tanks were to go they would go in the same gentlemanly manner. But if they had exploded we would have been short a few firemen.

Its bad enough if a fireman must be killed, but how about all the civilians looking over the fire fighters shoulders?

If you must watch a fire make sure your a safe distance away.

All told, five engines and two truck companies responded. 45 men fought the fire, approximately 4000 feet of 2½ inch and 1000 feet of 1½ inch hose was used. The damage, approximately $50,000. A fire watch was stationed at the fire ground until 7:35 a.m. the following day.

TV and RADIO

By MONA BAKER

It will be a gala evening in San Francisco on May 22 and one of the most important events of the year in local television. With Bay Area television personalities as well as many Hollywood stars, the San Francisco chapter of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences will hold an Emmy Awards "Night With the Stars" at the Village. Among stars invited to attend are Shirley Temple Black, Tom Tully and Warner Anderson of "Lineup" and Robert Young and the cast of "Father Knows Best."

The entire affair will be a benefit for educational channels KQED and KVIE of Sacramento. Channel 9 will be holding its annual auction in a few weeks to raise funds for the station during the coming year.

The San Francisco gathering will be held at the same time as parties are being held at chapter cities throughout the country. During the evening, Academy members will watch the national "Emmy Awards" telecast by monitor over the NBC network originating from Hollywood, New York and Washington, D. C.

The Academy of Television Arts and Sciences is made up of members connected with the broadcasting industry. One of the most important functions of the organization is the "Emmy Awards." Other activities include publication of a newsletter, formation of a library and museum, experimental broadcasting, workshops and lecture and advisory services.

Reminder—hope you remember to mail in your official TV Guide ballot, casting your vote for your favorite television program. Ballots must be postmarked no later than midnight, Friday, May 25, and the official ballot is in the May 12 issue of TV Guide. The winners of the nation-wide poll will be announced on June 25 on the "TV Guide Award Show," which will be telecast coast to coast over NBC.

Good news from KPIX is the announcement that Steve Allen will start a new Westinghouse series originating in Hollywood, beginning June 25. The program will be telecast over the five WBC stations, including KPIX, and will include discussions, information and educational material as well as entertainment.

Coming Programs: Over ABC, KGO, on May 22, 10:30 p.m., another program in outstanding "Bell & Howell Close-Up," covering the subject of "The Overseas Chinese."

COUNTY DOINGS

by JACK WOOD

After more than a year of study, planning commissioners in Pacifica have approved a new ordinance regulating billboards and signs.

Provisions of the ordinance require a $250 deposit or bond from all candidates and political groups to assure that political signs will be removed from about the city after elections.

The law prohibits all billboards from being placed within 500 feet of freeways so the city will be eligible for state help in landscaping freeways. Temporary signs must be no larger than 100 square feet and must be removed within 60 days.

Brisbane city manager Lanier S. Brady has estimated that a municipal police department to provide 24 hour service can be set up for less than $40,000 a year.

The estimate was made when a delegation of some 30 citizens appeared to protest the death of a 3½-year-old girl who was run over near her home and to appeal for better traffic protection throughout the city.

Brady said at least 4½ men would be needed to provide full-time police protection.

Overnight parkers in Burlingame must buy a $2 permit from the city in order to park on the street between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m., the city council voted May 7.

In defense of the ordinance, the citizen's committee that has been urging more enforcement in an attempt to keep trucks from being parked overnight in residential areas, presented arguments that the present ordinance that cars can't park overnight is unenforceable.

Casual Living At Lake Merced, Cypress Hills

Lake Merced is a lazy man's paradise on warm sunny days during the week.

Anglers sit and sun themselves while waiting for the planted rainbow trout to hit their lines. Even the seagulls seem to take it easy as they float in white patches in the center of the lake.

Lone coots make their way across acres of unruffled water. Gulls fly high and swing in slow circles before nesting on the silvery blue surface.

Canoeing and sail boating is fine sport. College students receive instructions on how to paddle about, sideways, forwards and back and how to raise the mainsail and handle the tiller and jib sheets.

Picnickers lug their baskets along a green carpet of grass, silhouetted against the green fir background. Swallows and garbling blackbirds make Lake Merced a regular chorus of bird song.

A duck throws out his neck, pulls it far back, then dives. Then another duck lets loose a combination laughing-hissing sound deep in a reed bank, walking the fishermen out of their calm.

A mallard drake begins quacking before his solo flight on the water as he perhaps searches for a mate. A fisherman casts in his wake.

Three mallard ducks turn tails up like wooden bobbers and swing underwater to eat from the bottom as they play in the shallows a few feet from shore.

On the Fairway

On the other side of town, at Cypress Hills golf course, the relaxation is more strenuous, yet just as enjoyable.

Golf pro Bob Sylvestri painstakingly instructs a student on his golf swing, occasionally taking time out to show the man the proper position, and comment on his stance.

Golfers, in two's, three's and four's file out to the first tee. Some are intent to study their swings at the driving range. Others spend the time putting. The chipping green seems a favorite place to practice up on those "crucial" shots.

Inside golfers relax in the spacious, well decorated bar-lounge or partake of dinners at the adjoining restaurant.

The course is well attended during the week, yet the pace is casual, a good enough approach anytime, especially on those nice, warm and sunny days.

Notes From The Schools

Thomas Edison School

Two teaching assistants, Miss Rose Marie Farajian and Bruce Russell have been working these past weeks with Mrs. Walden's 5th and 6th grade class and Mrs. Sherins' 3rd and 4th grades respectively. Both are completing their studies at San Francisco State.

Miss Farajian is from Modesto, where she was active in student government while attending Modesto Junior College. She has also directed summer camp programs for children where she used her musical talents. Miss Farajian has studied both piano and organ.

Russell served as a chief petty officer in the navy before becoming a physical training director. He has actively participated in professional football, basketball and boxing with 15 years experience in underwater diving to his credits. He has two sons.

Olympia School

Two classes at Olympia school visited Stanford University campus Monday, May 7, to view the Indian exhibit in the Historical Museum. The group from Mrs. Busetto's third grade, and Mrs. Lamp's combination second and third, had the opportunity to travel the length of San Mateo county into Santa Clara county, as they rode along Bayshore.

They noted the airports, the industries, and the cities of the peninsula. The huge pile of salt near the port of Redwood City was viewed with great interest because the children have studied the solar salt processing that is done in the lower part of the bay.

At the museum, the group saw a comparative exhibit of Indians throughout North and South America. They also saw exhibits from the islands of South Pacific. There was a large collection of baskets of the California Indians. By comparing the shelter, clothing, tools, weapons and ways of obtaining food of the various tribes, the children were able to draw some interesting conclusions about the effect of environment on this way of living.

The work of the archeologist was also viewed. The children saw the diggings of Indian mounds discovered in Stanford Village. These diggings are 3,000 years old and the groups are working on concepts of time.

Highlight of the trip for the children, as mirrored in their summary stories, pictures and discussions, appeared to be the stop at the Pulgas water temple in Skyline boulevard. This is the point where the Hetchy Hetchy aqueduct empties into the large Crystal Springs lake reservoir.

The mothers accompanying the group were Mrs. Rodman Barnes, Mrs. Philip Gargano, Mrs. John Lutz and Mrs. William Silen.

Youngsters of all three third grade classes have enjoyed special lectures regarding Indian life from Mrs. L. Bostwick, principal, and Mrs. Philip Gargano, a parent who also contributed an exhibit of Indian hand-made dolls, jewelry and pottery. Mrs. Busetto also exhibited in each room, Indian artifacts made by the Southwest Indians, such as a cradleboard, a model loom, Pueblo pottery, and a silver mold for jewelry making.

Vista Mar School

Mrs. Jane Cain's third grade class took a very interesting educational tour to the San Mateo County Historical Museum. The conducted tour lasted over an hour.

The children were told and shown the story of the county's history through period displays—Indian, Spanish, early American, etc. The center piece for each period was a diorama and next to this were relics and antique pieces, relating to each period, donated to the museum.

As a happy conclusion to their trip, the boys and girls had a picnic lunch at San Mateo Park where they enjoyed its recreational facilities.

Garden Village School

Classes at Garden Village will participate in a spring festival on Friday, May 18. All classes will take part in the outdoor program, beginning at noon on the lower play area. Following is the program:

Grand march, all; coronation of king and queen; brown jug dance, kindergarten classes; gay musician, first grades; Russian sleigh dance, second grades; Indian hoop dance, third grades; King Cotton drill, fifth grades; rustic reel and maypole dance, fourth grades; recessional.

The spring music concert featuring the school's fifth grade glee club and the all-city honor orchestra will present its program Tuesday, May 22, at 8 p. m. Parents are urged to reserve time for these programs.

Parents of Mr. Madariaga's fifth grade class will join the class for a year end picnic on May 20. Students will be in charge of refreshment committees.

Westlake School

This is the story of a roomful of third graders who were fingerprinted by the F.B.I., with the consent of their teacher, Margaret Beber.

The willing subjects were innocent of any wrongdoing, however. On the contrary, they all pleaded "guilty" to the charge of studying the community and the people who work in it.

In this particular "case," one of the community workers happened to be little Cindy Johnson's dad, who, for 19 years, has been a special agent for the F.B.I.

Mr. Johnson was invited to visit Cindy's classroom and talk about his work with the Department of Justice.

He did more than that. Eager eyes and hands sought out real-life handcuffs, anklecuffs, foot-chains, and a bullet-proof vest as their functions were explained to the children.

Raoul J. "Vince" Vincillone, candidate for the Republican nomination from the 27th Assembly district, has named township chairmen to head the campaign in the north county district.

The following were named to conduct Vincillone's campaign in the newly designated 27th Assembly district:

Florence Calvean, South San Francisco; Richard T. Bash, Pacifica; Peter Schragar, Burlingame; Ivon Ronce, Millbrae; Rev. Glenn Miller and James T. Palmore, co-chairman, San Mateo-Shoreview area.

They were even shown how to lift fingerprints—and in turn, each child was fingerprinted.

Just to make sure that everyone had a better idea of what the F.B.I. was all about, Mr. Johnson gave the youngsters copies of booklets describing the story of the F.B.I. and its career opportunities.

MRS. L. E. ENGLEMAN, president-elect, 17th District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, receiving her pin from President Cunningham.

Sgt. Sundermann Will Receive Patrol Training

Sergeant Henry Sundermann of the Daly City police department will join 65 police and sheriff's officers from throughout the state who will receive California highway patrol training in emergency vehicle operations Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden announced this week.

The men have been divided into nine classes, each of 2 1/2 days' duration. The first started this week, and the program will run through June 8 at the Patrol's Sacramento Academy. Four hours of classroom work and 16 hours of driving are included in the comprehensive course taught by Sergeant Robert Phillips, who conducts similar classes for patrol cadets. Sergeant Phillips will be assisted by officers Edward Gamble and B. Dolan Lannan.

Driving instruction will include defensive driving techniques, practice in operating on surfaces with reduced traction, and pursuit driving. The patrol's skid pan and 2.3-mile high-speed course will be the site of instruction.

When the program was first proposed by the patrol, response was so great that it was decided to enroll one man from each police or sheriff's department, rather than a large number of officers from any one agency, in order to accommodate as many departments as possible.

South San Francisco High School Is 'OK'

"Judging from the evaluators' report, we did well," commented George Hurley, chairman of South San Francisco CASSA Report. South San Francisco High School was evaluated by a committee from the California Secondary School Administrators last Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday (April 30, May 1 and 2). Principal Louis J. Bagnall pointed out that although the committee's recommendations for length of accreditation will not be known until the Accreditation Commission meets in July, the group's report was largely favorable. "But we are not minimizing what the committee pointed out were our weaknesses," emphasized Principal Bagnall.

High Morale

CASSA representatives spoke to the SSFHS faculty Wednesday and gave the faculty their preliminary report.

They praised the high morale of the faculty and the student body. Dr. Paul Hale of San Francisco State College told the faculty that the committee found through polling students that there is a good relationship at South San Francisco High School between the students and their teachers. Students have a high regard for their teachers and like the student activity program, he said.

The committee also commended the school for its program of studies. They reported that they were pleased with the wide variety and depth of the curriculum. The CASSA committee praised the school for its low dropout rate compared with other California schools and commended the school for its holding power over its students. South San Francisco makes good provision for the needs of its students, the committee maintained.

Two other strengths of the school, according to the group of educators, are the counseling program and the student activities. Both were cited as two reasons for the good holding power of the school and the high morale and good spirits of the student body.

Some Inadequacies

Certain areas of concern were cited. The CASSA Committee reported that the group felt that some aspects of the physical plant were in adequate. The library facilities were criticized. There are plenty of books available for South San Francisco High School students but library facilities will continue to be inadequate unless proposed plans for the library are expanded. In considering the size of the SSFHS student body, the library should seat at least 100 students, the committee reported.

Administrative facilities are too cramped, the faculty was told, and the school does not have enough permanent classrooms. The CASSA Committee also maintained that South San Francisco needs an audio-visual center in order that the school can improve its program. Also criticized were the facilities for text book storage and distribution. The committee urged the school to consider hiring a text book clerk in order to relieve teachers and the librarian of this burden.

Six Educators

The CASSA Committee consisted of six educators. One was from the State Department of Education, one was a college professor, another member was a teacher, and two were school administrators. After reading a 400-page report written by administrative, clerical, instructional, and student committees, the CASSA representatives are preparing a formal report which will be sent to the state CASSA Accreditation Commission for its consideration in July. At that time the school will be considered for accreditation.

ELLEN GILARDI TAKES HOLY VOWS WITH DENNIS MARC

Saint Peter and Paul's Church, San Francisco, was the setting for the holy vows of matrimony taken May 6 by Janice Ellen Gilardi and Dennis Raymond Marc.

The 2 p.m. ceremony was performed by Father Armond Oliveri before an altar of billowing gladioli and white stock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilardi, 968 Southgate avenue. The groom is the son of Mr. Raymond Marc and Mrs. Denzil Willis, also of this city.

Janice was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in an imported white gown of silk organza over taffeta, enhanced with a Marquis neckline and short sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt, with motif of re-embroidered alencon lace, swept back into a chapel train under a bustle bow of lace and roses.

A delicate elbow-length veil was secured by a double-crown headpiece with stand up crystals and seed pearls, set off with alencon lace inserts. The bride carried a bouquet of Lilly of the Valley Stephanotis, and Fleur de Mour, surrounding three white Cattalaya orchids in the center.

Preceding the bride to the altar were matron of honor Mrs. Joyce Radetich, and bridesmaids Miss Claire Harris and Miss Judith Verzello.

The attendants all wore azalea pink dresses of silk organza over taffeta. They were styled with scoop necklines, cap sleeves and a bell-shaped skirt, enhanced by motif with a rose enveloped in the soft pleats. They wore headpieces of a rolled rose on flat bow with veiling. The bridesmaids all carried a pale green bouquet of crescent shaped cymbidiums.

Marc asked his brother Stevens Willis to be best man. Ushers were Lauren Pottinger and Bruce Radetich.

The brides mother chose a rose colored sheath, with matching coat ensemble and a corsage of white cattalaya orchids. The groom's mother wore a pale blue linen sheath with lace inserts, with matching pale blue accessories. Her corsage was cattalaya white orchids and pink elf roses.

Immediately following the ceremony the newlyweds welcomed approximately 400 guests at a reception at San Francisco's Surf Club. The five-tier wedding cake was decorated with roses and swans, topped with a bride and groom replica.

The bride selected a powder blue ensemble, with white accessories for the honeymoon trip to Southern California.

The new Mrs. Marc received her education at Presentation high school and Grace Ball college. Her husband is a graduate of Jefferson high school and a former student of College of San Mateo and San Jose State college. He is a member of the Olympic Club.

RAMS PLAY LIKE CHAMPS AGAIN

Coach Rod Losberger's Westmoor Rams regained some of their 1961 championship stature last week as they claimed two victories in the ebbing Peninsula Baseball League.

The green and white gloves from the hilltop campus shook favored Aragon, 5-2, on Tuesday and came back to soundly triumph over Terra Nova, 6-1, on Friday. The victories pulled the Westmoor nine closer to the middle of the standing with a 4-6 record.

Across town at Jefferson, coach Steve Mezzera's battlers had to settle for a split. On Tuesday, magnificent Bob Miller baffled Terra Nova batters with a neat two-hitter. Friday the Jeff hardballers found the going a bit rough as they ran into Wally Bunker and the front-running Capuchino Mustangs and succumbed, 8-1.

This Friday, the Rams get their final crack at the Capuchino Mustangs when they host the first place Tangs on the Westmoor field in a 3:15 p. m. contest.

Currently leading the hitters with a .538 average, will lead the San Bruno nine into battle. The Rams boast sophomore third-baseman Bruce Hix, who is currently tagging the ball at a .536 clip — only two points behind Bunker.

Losberger has slated chief workhorse Harry Brown to take the mound against the league leaders. Brown has a 3-4 league record to date.

Jefferson heads south Friday to meet the San Mateo Bearcats. The battle will pit the two top hitters in the league against each other Cap's Bunker, curcats in a 3:15 p. m. clash at Fitzgerald field. Coach Steve Mezzera will pitch either Carl Carpenter or Bob Miller. A win over the Bearcats would keep the Indians in the first division.

In last Friday's action, the Westmoor lads put together one of their first offensive showings of the PL campaign as they pounded out 10 hits off four weary Terra Nova pitchers.

Another good indication which caused Losberger some exalted tremors was the pitching of Harry Brown. The slight senior hurler displayed excellent control as he went the distance on only 81 pitches — about 40 below his average. Brown also gave up only five scattered hits and one run.

Steve Schmuck, Bruce Hix, Gary Mendoza and Tito Torres were the offensive stars for the Rams. Schmuck pounded out three hits, including a double, while both Hix and Mendoza collected two hits each.

Torres provided the power as the right fielder slammed a three-run homer in the final stanza to cinch the game for Westmoor. It was his second round-tripper of the year.

Roland Isnor scored the Tangers' only run when he singled, went to third on Bill Hensley's base hit and came home on an error. The losing pitcher was Don Katona, who has had trouble these past two years after making the All-PL as a sophomore hurler for Westmoor.

Over at Marchbanks, the Indians had trouble with a fellow by the name of Wally Bunker. The junior chucker for the Capuchino Mustangs held Mez-zera's troops down to four hits, while striking out 13.

Rich Reitz got the only extra-base hit off of Bunker, a double to centerfield. Jeff got their only run in the seventh inning when Al Cacicado walked and advanced to second then came home on Darwin Haanen's sharp single.

Carl Carpenter was the loser, with Miller coming on to relieve him in the final stanza. It was a close contest up until the seventh when the Tangs exploded for four runs on four hits.

Ben Franklin
Ends Season
With 8-5 Win

The Benjamin Franklin eighth grade recreation baseball team closed out its 1962 season on an auspicious note last Thursday as they downed San Bruno Parkside, 8-5.

The San Bruno squad outlived the locals, 7-3, but eight walks, along with the timely hitting of centerfielder Mike Dulas, gave Ben Franklin the win. Dulas garnered two of his team's three hits, with the other one going to Steve Hudgens.

Franklin hurler Dennis Kelly did an excellent job by keeping the seven hits scattered. John Dunn came on in the final inning to preserve Kelly's win.

Other Ben Franklin players were Rich Skinner, Steve Ross, Charley Morgan, John Campbell, Russ Baird, Ricky Secrest, John Gleebov, Steve Adams and Don Giovannetti.

Delta Salmon Get
Police Protection

Salmon in the lower San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers and the delta area will get an extra measure of protection from department of fish and game marine patrol forces during the months that salmon and striped bass are running in these waters.

Because of increased activity among illegal net operators, the marine patrol resources of fish and game regions two and three have been pooled to establish a round-the-clock patrol in the vulnerable waters. Starting this week, boats and crews are being rotated and coordinated to cover all the former commercial fishing waters seven days and nights a week.

The recent high price of salmon and a ready market have combined to give an incentive to illegal netting.

World Fair Boasts Aqua Sports

A spectacular aquacade plus a star-studded list of stage, television and movie personalities, including Bob Hope, and singers Bert Parks and Gisele MacKenzie, will keynote Seattle's summertime entertainment during the World's Fair.

Beginning with Miss MacKenzie's appearance in "Annie Get Your Gun," July 2 through July 7, Seattleites and the expected 8,000,000 visitors, will be treated to a succession of events highlighted by the Bob Hope variety revue, July 9-15.

Right on the heels of the Hope spectacular will come Meredith Willson's Broadway success "Music Man," starring Parks, and New York singing sensation Barbara Williams. The musical is slated for showing July 17 through July 22.

Besides being the site of the above, Seattle's Aqua Theater, which is located on the shores of Green Lake, will present the Aqua Follies, July 26 through August 15.

Al Sheehan's water and stage show is a blending of swimming, diving, dancing and singing. With the World's Fair as its theme, Aqua Follies employs gay and colorful costumes, rich and talented voices, Olympic Games diving and swimming champions, plus dozens of synchronized mermaids.

Seafair

While the World's Fair is scheduled from April 21 to October 21, the peak of activity comes during Seattle's annual maritime mardi gras—Seafair. The 13th edition of these marine hi-jinx runs July 27 through August 5, and is capped by the 59th running of the $35,000 Gold Cup Race for unlimited hydroplanes.

Billed as the "world series of boat racing," the Gold Cup is the richest prize in one of the world's most hazardous sports. Juggernauting around a three-mile course at speeds up to 180 miles per hour, an anticipated field of more than 25 huge thunder boats will vie.

Nineteen entries from Detroit, Nevada, Indiana, California, and the home state of Washington have been received in challenge to defending champion Miss Century 21, of Seattle.

Pro Football

Shortly after the close of Seafair, Greater Seattle, Inc., will bring a pre-season professional National Football League game to the University of Washington's 55,000 seat stadium on Saturday, August 11.

San Francisco's 49ers tangle with the Minnesota Vikings.

Festival USA

The big Seafair Parade will be held on Saturday, July 28, with "Festivals, USA" serving as the theme for floats expected from all over the United States.

A regional water ski tournament, an international sailing championship, street dances, mock pirate invasions, arrival of the U. S. Fleet, and hundreds of other satellite events, all with a marine flavor, comprise the busy calendar.

It's SPARE TIME
at Westlake Bowl

by Jim Grealish

A Sunday morning Mothers'-Daughters'-Sons League is the latest addition to the Westlake "Family Circle." In this weekly program, any combination of parent and child is eligible to participate. Teams will be composed of two parents and two children with substitutes to allow for summer vacations. The organizational meeting will be held at 9:30 a. m. Sunday, May 20. Teams or couples may register with Rick or Primo.

The 540 Pro Trio found some high rolling last week as Fred Von Husen posted a tremendous 712 three game total then in the four game relaxed a little and ended with a series total of 854. Ralph Ostergren took high game honors with 268 and registered a four game total of 854.

John Schmidt finished with a big 258 game in the 805 Scratch League Monday night to lead the league with a 633 series while Hank Della made a great return to form with two 224 games and a 606 series.

The "Bowler of the Week" leading both men and women, was Mercedes Johnson who started with a 236 game followed by 204 and 197 for a 637 series which set a new high for the Ladies 640 Scratch League.

The next No-Tap Sweepstakes and Buffet is scheduled for May 26. Once again there will be Las Vegas vacations for the winning man and woman. As in the past, the bowling will start at 7 p. m., dancing at 9 p. m. with the buffet being served at 11:30 p. m. The cost is $3 per person and reservations may be made by calling Rick or Primo.

As entries in the current Gold Coast Handicap hit the 300 mark, Karl Ostberg and Ray Moore became the third week qualifiers for the Westlake Rolloffs June 30 and July 1. With qualifying on until June 24, it is expected that the entries will top 1000 which means that the prize list will again be revised upward. A new qualifying period starts every Monday morning.

Last Sunday was a real Mothers' Day for sixty ladies from the Madonna House who were feted to breakfast here then a tour of the area by the Grand Council of the Y.M.I.

Ralph Brown led the Westmoor Handicap for the week with a 219 and 573 series while John Dallara took similar honors in the Country Club Handicap on the same evening with a big 246 game, missing a 600 series by only eight pins.

Another B'nai B'rith bowler crashed the six hundred series barrier when Jules Roseman shot a high game of 240 and a three game total of 616.

Sandi Amstutz and Ed Walther were the Monday night leaders in the High Rollers Mixed Fives with 166 and 481 and 220 and 549 respectively.

Joan Kunkel was the opening night leader in the Sunset Handicap with a big 205 game and 574 series as the girls started their summer league.

The Westlake Junior bowlers take to the road next weekend as they go to Santa Rosa Saturday for the Rose Bowl Tournament then to Stockton Sunday for the Northern California Junior Championships.

The Telco Bowlers are off and running in their summer league as Secretary Len Heiser led the way on opening night. His 212 game and 576 series were high in both departments while Jane McLeary, Lee DeMott and Jim Todd tied for second high game honors at 187.

Thursday must have been secretary's night as Bob Kern led his Lake Merced Handicap League with a 579 series, although Gary Brown took high game honors with 213 despite some coaching from teammate Jack Freidman.

Chase Breaks PL Record

Westmoor's fabulous Dennis Chase dominated last Friday afternoon's Peninsula League track and field finals at Hillsdale. The slender pole-vaulter soared over the horizontal bar at 13-4 3/4 to shatter the previous PL record by five inches.

The youthful Ram, who has hit a top of 13-9 3/4 earlier in the year, outgained his nearest competitor, Jack McLesky of Aragon, by eight inches. McLesky went 12-6 to take second place.

Chase, whose favorite pole had been broken two weeks ago and had presented him with problems, eclipsed the old mark of 12-11 3/4, set by Burlingame's Dick Kimmel in 1957. The vault set a new record in the dying PL which will go down never to be broken.

Jefferson's Rich Waller also took a top place in the field events as he hurled the discus 147-3 for the first place award. Waller's throw outclassed PL favorites Walt Wenger of Cap and Jim Shutz of South San Francisco.

In other field events Westmoor's Jim Lucke fell short by one inch and had to settle for second place in the high-jump. Lucke, an honor student at Westmoor, went 6-0 and tied for second with San Mateo's Dick Jameson.

In the track events, the Indian's Sammy Ennon grabbed a second in the 100 with a time of 10.6. The Jeff speedster also took a fourth in the 180 low hurdles to pace the Indian's attack.

The San Mateo Bearcats swept all three divisions in the PL championships. The perennial champions of coach Beny Wagner scored 71 1/2 points in the varsity division to Jeff's 16 and Westmoor's 15. Closest rival was Hillsdale with 52 points.

In the class B division the Bearcats prevailed lopsidedly with 96 points compared to 35 for Aragon, the runner-up team. They made it a perfect day by taking the C's with 68 points.

The first, second and third winners in last Friday's meet qualified for the North Coast Sectionals II meet to be held this Friday at Deisner field, Fremont high school.

The first five placers in the events at Fremont will qualify for the North Coast Sectionals finals at Stanford May 26.

By GARRY NIVER

Floyd Patterson, the so-called heavyweight champ of the world, must have gone to bed Saturday night with nightmares. The hide-and-go-seek lad must have suffered a serious traumatic experience, which, no doubt, upset his well-guarded dream world.

We wouldn't be surprised if Cus D'Amato had to run over to his pad and tell him some beddy-bye stories while feeding him some warm milk — out of a glass, of course.

If Patterson had tuned in on the Saturday night fights, and we believe he did, he would have witnessed a man who could take his heavyweight title away with one hand. Of course, Patterson will never fight Harold Johnson because he is well protected by D'Amato and a host of other advisers. But you can rest assured that just knowing the fact that Johnson is lurking out there in the big, bad world of boxing must cause Patterson some frightful moments.

This corner, long before it was established in Daly City, has contended that Johnson was the most worthy challenger for Floyd's somewhat tarnished heavyweight crown.

Johnson is of the old school of fighting, and the only one remaining who is still proficient in his art. Archie Moore and Sugar Ray are about the only others who still ply their trade, but they have long since passed into the shadows of greatness.

It was both amusing and enjoyable to watch Johnson befuddle his younger opponent, Doug Jones, who is used to the new age of boxing. Nowadays a heavy or lightweight throws one or two punches at a time, therefore all defenses are built to protect against the jab and right cross. But Johnson comes from the old school, and when he jabbed, he double hooked, right-crossed and then came back with a hook—all in a continuous motion which completely confused his opponent.

Jones could ward off the first two blows but he was at a loss when the other four or five came his way. Johnson also displayed an adeptness in the art of defense. For a boxer who has been at the trade for 16 years, his face is amazingly clean of scar tissue. Jones was unable to reach Johnson with his own punches, which further upset him, and must have upset Mr. Patterson.

If anything, this bout might have hastened Floyd to make his defense of the title against floundering Sonny Liston. Patterson will be happy to get in the ring with Liston after watching a real craftsman, Johnson, ply his trade.

Liston, as many indicate, is a worthy opponent for Floyd-boy. We tend to disagree. Aside from a rather dismal association with known hoods, Liston has failed to impress when he did win a fight.

His record includes a list of nobodies somewhat analogous to Cassius Clay's record. He does hold a 10-round dull decision over Eddie Machen and a knockout over Cleveland "Big Cat" Williams.

Machen, as everybody in the Bay Area knows, is an off-and-on fighter. When he wants to fight he is almost unbeatable. But when he doesn't want to fight, he can be whipped by the fledgling novice. The night Eddie fought Liston was one of the latter, with Machen deciding to run backwards.

As far as Williams is concerned, he too is an off-and-on fighter, in a much stranger way. Big Cat seems to encounter visions from the Lord, and when he gets a vision he falls to pieces. Against Liston the night they fought, Big Cat was leading. In the fourth stanza he had a vision and Liston promptly salted him away.

So you can see the decrepid state of heavyweight boxing as it exists today. It is all too commercial, with the people who deserve shots at the title being ignored for the newcomer with the padded record of set-ups.

Johnson won't get his shot at Patterson and the pseudo-champ will knock out the slow-moving Sonny Liston. Floyd and his "advisors," or hangers-on, will make a million dollars with little or no chance involved.

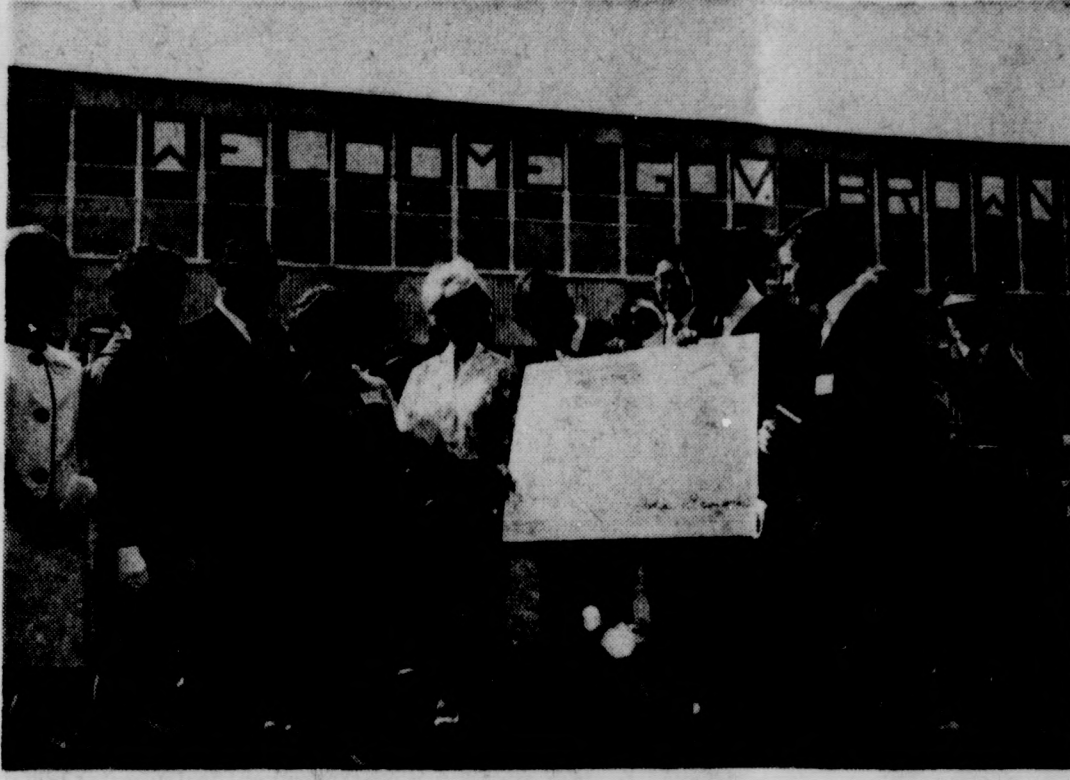

Which leads us to the conclusion that maybe boxing belongs on the financial or entertainment page instead of the sports page. If there were more Lou Thomases and fewer Cus D'Amatos, boxing wouldn't be hurting as much as it is today.

ON THE SIDELINES... Sophomore sensation Bruce Hix from Westmoor High School could be one of the top players to come out of the Peninsula in recent years. Despite the strong pitching prevalent this year, the Ram third-sacker is hitting at a .536 clip.

Roger Rischer gets his big chance May 28 when he duels Eddie Machen at the Civic Auditorium. Should be one of the top heavy attractions of the year if Machen wants to fight.

Jefferson basketball coach Mike Orlich must be tearing his hair out. Last year the Jeff cagers were "homeless" when the old gym was razed to make room for the new one. Now the workers on the new gym have gone out on strike and it looks like another "homeless" year for the Indian cagers.

Everybody has a hero—Down at the Godkin home in South SF, Bill Godkin, a Midget League player for M & S Builders, has been given the pseudonym "Willie" by his family. It seems that the lad is very proficient at homerun hitting.

Gov. Brown Urges Students To Get A "Good Education"

Governor Edmund G. Brown urged South San Francisco high school students, May 11, to get as much education as they can to meet the growing demands of a highly urbanized society.

Speaking at an assembly organized by the Political Action Club at the high school, Brown stated: "If you can possibly go on to college, do it."

Unemployment figures, he said, are swollen with drop outs from high school. And, he said, men and women who receive college training earn more money.

Brown and Richard Nixon, who will speak at the second assembly on May 24, will climax a series of speeches that began with the meeting of the candidates for the local council.

Political Career After meeting with the PAC and high school band in front of the school and posing for pictures for the press, Brown spoke of his career from high school days to the present.

Brown said that 35 years ago he was graduated from Lowell high school in San Francisco and wanted to go on to college, but financial difficulties interfered and he entered night law school. During law school, he also took courses from the extension division of the University of California.

"During my last college days, I worked for a blind lawyer," Brown said. "I was his eyes."

Brown was admitted to the bar in 1927. In 1928 he ran for the legislature as a Republican, running third in a field of three. He later changed to Democrat during the Roosevelt tied law 17 years in San Francisco.

Stresses Education He ran for district attorney in San Francisco and became the chief prosecutor, was district attorney seven years, then moved up to the attorney generalship of California.

WHAT'S DOING

T. P. Coyne, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

Making summer vacation plans? A long distance call is your surest guarantee you'll have just the reservations you want when you arrive at your vacation spot. Along the way, you'll want to call ahead to friends or relatives to let them know you'll be in town. Settling details by long distance is part of the fun of going places.

When you get there, a call to the folks back home, to let them know you're "having a wonderful time," is one more way your telephone can help make your vacation a happy one.

Tuesday, June 5th, will be an important day for every citizen interested in good government. I'm sure that means all of us. Because June 5 is the day we select state and congressional office candidates for the general election next fall.

While the primaries are next month, many people are starting to bone up on the candidates now, learning about them, their records, and what they stand for. Seems to me that's a mighty good way to help select those best qualified.

By the very nature of our business, you often come in contact with telephone people here in town. You talk with people in the business office and our operators, see installers and other telephone men busy all around town. Youths Beaten After Drag Race Argument

A gang of Pacific youths, including the son of Fire Chief Edwin Green, assaulted two teen-age brothers in another car because they wouldn't drag race. The assault occurred May 11 in Rockaway Beach after a short auto chase. After the incident, one of the brothers, 16-year-old Andrew Fenyes, 1249 Alcantara drive, fainted while driving home and his 14-year-old brother, Theodore, took the wheel.

Arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon, assault and battery, and possession of alcoholic beverages while under age were:

Kenneth J. Enners, 18, 141 Carmel avenue; Edwin C. Green, 18, Linda Mar boulevard.

The brothers were riding around in their father's car with a companion and a teenage girl they had picked up, when an auto with a half dozen youth pulled alongside.

The youths challenged the brothers to a drag race and when they refused, the occupants of the other car began hurling empty beer cans at the Fenyes auto.

Andrew Fenyes tried to elude the other car, which blocked the way at Donaldson street and Hewitt avenue in Rockaway. The pursuing youths jumped out of their auto and began assaulting the Fenyes brothers.

Enners and Green were arrested after their car was stopped on the Edgemark freeway about 10:40 p. m.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—I sent the VA a notice of my new address the day before I moved, but I have not received my pension check.

A.—Checks are mailed by the Treasury Department. Your check may have been mailed to the old address before the VA could get a notice of your change of address to the treasury disbursing office. You would have received your check promptly, nevertheless, if you had also given the post office a notice of your change of address over your written signature.

Q.—I receive pension checks from the VA, and I have been told I should immediately report any change in my income from outside sources. Since I report my income annually, why isn't that enough?

A.—If you wait until your annual report to advise the VA of the change, you may be required to repay pension payments you received during the year to which you were not entitled because of a change in your income.

Q.—As a Korean veteran holding "RS" GI insurance, if I choose the new lower-rate term insurance in order to collect a dividend, must I convert to a permanent type of insurance within a short time?

A.—You can convert to a more permanent type anytime before you reach the age of 50.

DeBernardi Issues City Of Hope Plea

The City of Hope has piloted new concepts in the care of stricken children, it was revealed recently by Michael De Bernardi, local fund campaign chairman.

A parent participation program trains and encourages mothers and fathers to assist in the daily care of their fatal-ly-ill youngsters, he said.

"Bringing together home and hospital to prolong lives, the parents' presence assures the child of the one medicine no scientist can synthesize — the morale only a mother and father can give," the campaign leader pointed out.

In the children's wing at the City of Hope, parent participation constitutes a major weapon against catastrophic diseases afflicting youngsters, he reported.

Through its parent participation program, the City of Hope provides little victims of those dread scourges a source of strength. To parents, it imparts courage to carry on after their loss. This pilot concept of care has influenced other medical facilities in the United States.

"Your contributions during this drive can help hasten the day when mankind, and particularly our young, may be freed from the haunting fear of tragic illness," the campaign chairman declared.

Scores of volunteers now being mobilized for the fund effort during the month of June, which will be highlighted by an all-day house-to-house solicitation which will cover every residential area of the city is scheduled for June 10.
